

How Far Will U.S.A. Go To Aid Formosa?

By JHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON — (AP)—The report that President Truman and Gen. Douglas MacArthur have reached agreement on the Formosa issue opened anew today the question of what exactly are American aims for the future of that strategic island.

The heart of the question is: To what extent will the United States try to keep Formosa, now held by the Chinese Nationalists, from falling into the hands of the Chinese Communists?

Views Didn't Agree
Up to the time of the Truman-MacArthur conference on Wake Island last Sunday, there was considerable evidence that the two men did not see eye to eye. MacArthur clearly favored a determined policy to keep Formosa permanently out of Communist control. Mr. Truman favored neutralizing the island during the Korean war and thereafter settling its status peacefully through the United Nations.

The key to the reported agreement may be this: Although he seeks a peaceful solution in accord with other friendly nations, the President may have no intention of letting that solution take the form of handing Formosa over to the Chinese Reds.

That is, the reported agreement may have taken the form of an assurance by Mr. Truman to MacArthur that his policies, developing within the U. N., are aimed at permanently neutralizing the island.

High Pentagon officials who reported anonymously yesterday that the two men had agreed on the Formosa issue did not say how or in what degree the differences as they formerly appeared on the record had been resolved.

Solons Suspicious

These officials stipulated that they not be named. This brought a prompt protest from Senator Knowland (R-Calif.) about "second hand leaks." In a statement distributed by the Republican National committee, Knowland said "these partial facts may or may not express accurately the understanding" about Formosa.

He demanded that the full text of the anonymous news conference notes be cabled to MacArthur, presumably for checking against his understanding. Knowland noted that the officials who gave out word of the reported Formosa agreement were not actually present at the time, since they said Mr. Truman and the General discussed the issue when they were alone.

In Tokyo, informed sources said MacArthur has not altered his views. They said Formosa was not involved in any policy discussions at Wake.

Williams Says He Quit ADA

Rap At Kelly Taken In Radio Address

(By The Associated Press)

Gov. G. Mennen Williams declared last night that his Republican opponent, Harry F. Kelly, as wartime governor "lent the great seal of Michigan to the purposes of the Communist party."

Williams in a campaign speech for re-election broadcast from Detroit (WJR) made the charge in replying to what he termed Kelly's effort "to make me look like a Communist." He said Kelly twice issued proclamations urging Michigan to take part in observances inspired by the National Council of American-Soviet Friendship.

"I do not mean to imply," Williams said, "that my Republican opponent now, has, or ever did have, any sympathy with communism. I do not think he is any more a Communist than I am. I would not stoop to besmirch his name as he has tried to besmirch mine."

Gov. Williams asserted Kelly "has attempted to create a phony issue by a slanderous attack upon a very small group of citizens with whom I was once briefly associated."

"I mean," he added, "the so-called ADA, American for Democratic Action."

The governor said he had quit ADA.

"When I saw it endorsing Republicans for office," Williams said, "I could not go along with it."

Gov. Williams was presented on the radio broadcast by former Gov. Murray D. Van Wagoner, who declared, "I am 100 percent in his corner."

British Parliament Weathers Challenge

LONDON — (AP) — Parliament turned to routine business today after Britain's Labor government weathered another Conservative challenge to its power.

The House of Commons last night rejected, 296 to 284 an opposition amendment "deploring" the deficit in the socialized transport industry. Defeat on such a major issue likely would have caused the resignation of Prime Minister Attlee's Labor government, which has a nominal house majority of seven.

Held For Strangling

DETROIT — (AP)—Mrs. Lillian Nagy was held without bond in jail today to await examination Oct. 27 on a first degree murder charge in the strangling of her seven-week-old daughter. She pleaded innocent yesterday. Police said she had admitted strangling the child because of worry over unpaid bills.

Three Die In Florida Hurricane; High Tides Tear Away Seawalls

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. — (AP)—High tides tore at Florida beaches and seawalls today, only a few hours after a hurricane ripped the length of the state and fizzled down to squall size as it edged into Georgia.

Three Floridians died in the blow. Property and crop damage was well up in the millions of dollars. The force of the storm tapered off steadily from the 116-mile-an-hour punch it handed Miami at Tuesday midnight. Still it was the worst in years for many north and central Florida cities.

Today's battle scene was along the miles of East coast resort beaches. Navy men and civilian volunteers worked through the night to sandbag seawalls and oceanfront houses.

Angry sea waters already had torn away city docks and two fish houses on Indian river at Titusville. One section of seawall at Cocoa collapsed. Many roads and bridges were washed out or were under water.

In three South Florida counties — Dade, Broward and Palm Beach — storm damage was tentatively estimated at $5,000,000 by chief storm forecaster Grady Norton. He said it would rise as more complete reports came in. Newspaper estimates were as high as $8,000,000 for greater Miami alone.

Crops Hard Hit
Florida's big citrus and winter vegetable business was hard hit. Nearly 15,000 acres of early fall vegetables worth more than $2,000,000 were destroyed. Grapefruit losses in the Indian River section were mostly 30 per cent but as high as 80 per cent in one 7,000-acre section.

Interior citrus was in far better shape since highest winds and rain fanned out on the southeast front of the hurricane. On the west side of the storm, highest winds were only 36 miles an hour at Ocala and 38 miles an hour at Gainesville.

The storm dead were Mrs. Owen Adams of West Hollywood and two unidentified Negroes. Mrs. Adams was killed when the hurricane smashed her family's trailer. Her husband and four children were hurt. One of the dead Negroes was found in the wreckage of his home at West Hallandale.

The other jumped from a small boat near Bunnell and drowned in Hawk creek. Apparently he was frightened when high winds churned up the waters and he tried to swim to shore, a county official said.

New Buffalo, Mich. Tots Put Boulders On Railroad Tracks
MICHIGAN CITY, Ind. — (AP)—Three children from New Buffalo, Mich., accused of placing boulders and ties on railroad tracks near here, have been turned over to juvenile authorities.

An Indiana state police trooper said he caught a six-year-old girl and her two brothers, aged seven and 11, putting obstructions on the tracks.

The children admitted, he said, blocking the Chesapeake & Ohio tracks four times recently.

In recent days, the department has received an abnormal number of telephone calls, telegrams and personal calls pleading and insisting that it either lift the export restriction or modify it to increase export allowances.

Five Dionnes Pay First Visit To New York

Busy Day Arranged For Quintuplets

By HENRIETTA LEITH

NEW YORK — (AP)—Yvonne peered out of the train window and smiled broadly.

Anette smiled, too, but more self-consciously. Emilie looked solemn. Cecile gulped when she saw the crowd outside, and Marie looked almost frightened.

Or maybe the solemn one was Cecile. And wasn't the one with the prettiest smile Annette?

Nobody was sure, not even their host, Francis Cardinal Spellman, archbishop of New York.

Holding Up Well

The important thing was that all five of the Dionne quintuplets were holding up well under the strain of floodlights, popping flash bulbs and the pushing, curious crowds that greeted their first visit to New York last night.

As for what the 16-year-old quintuplets thought of New York, they

Russia Wants Place On World Police

By STANLEY JOHNSON

LAKE SUCCESS — (AP)—Diplomats of seven nations met behind locked doors today to discuss Russia's demand to serve on the peace patrols set up under the United Nations' new anti-aggression program.

The plan, which puts teeth in U. N. efforts to maintain peace, was adopted overwhelmingly by the 60-Nation Political committee in a paragraph by paragraph vote last night.

Ex-Educator Hunted In $175,000 Jewel Swindle At Detroit

DETROIT — (AP)—A young, former schoolmaster was sought today in an alleged forgery and the reported disappearance of $175,000 in jewelry.

New York diamond merchants were victims in an alleged swindle ascribed to Theodore Gilbert, 32, onetime principal of a school for errant boys.

Police said Gilbert was accused of absconding with the jewels after paying their "wholesale" price of $93,557 with a fraudulent check.

Gilbert was missing from his Detroit home along with his wife, Doris, a teacher, and their 13-month-old son, Louis. Police said a maid told them she was informed they had left Tuesday for Arizona.

The missing gems, police said, included a 37-carat platinum and diamond bracelet valued at $35,000 and numerous other jewels.

A warrant issued in recorder's court yesterday charged that Gilbert used a fake check for $93,557 in paying for the jewelry. The check was written on a Detroit bank.

The details assumed fantastic nature. Detective Inspector Herbert A. Hale said that Gilbert contacted New York diamond men saying he had $100,000 to invest.

The jewels were supplied, Hale said, by Gaumond Bros., Inc., and the J. L. Hanifan Co. of New York City. Representatives of the firms met with Gilbert here.

At Gilbert's insistence the jewels were removed from a Detroit bank vault and brought to his home where he paid for them with the check and took possession.

Yesterday, Hale said, the check was found to be fraudulent.

Government Lines Up Another Blow At Building Boom

By STERLING F. GREEN

WASHINGTON — (AP)—Despite forceful objections from the building industry, the government today considered an emergency ban on the construction of race tracks, dance halls, bowling alleys and other amusement spots.

New moving picture theaters and night clubs might also be included, but officials of the National Production Authority

(NPA) said the scope of the proposed order remains to be worked out. Its aim is to save materials for munitions.

Industries Fight Idea
The move would be a stiff blow to the already tottering building boom. Severe limitations on private real estate credit and federal home financing were imposed Thursday, and a limitation on commercial construction credit-affecting stores and office buildings—is expected to follow.

Still another slap at credit expansion, in the form of a federal reserve board order tightening bank reserve requirements, became more likely. The board yesterday reported that bank loans to business houses hit another record high last week.

An order requiring banks to set aside more funds in reserve would limit the bank funds available for lending. Business loans last week, the board said, increased by $227,000,000 to a total of $16,142,000,000.

The proposed building ban was unfolded yesterday to a score of leaders in the building, real estate, materials, and related industries. They fought the idea vigorously, and urged instead that the industry be allowed to undertake its own conservation campaign.

Will Freeze Materials
The industry group argued that the real estate credit move will freeze huge quantities of materials. Some of them estimated

Triple Smashup Planes Hunted

Two Pilots Missing; One Wreck Found

WASHINGTON — (AP)—The Air Force today quoted 2nd Lt. Luther C. Barcus, pilot who survived a crash of three F-86 fighters, as saying the pilots misjudged altitude in a haze and flew into a body of water in tight formation.

Barcus' plane "bounced" from the water, he was quoted as saying, but the two others went under.

Barcus managed to belly-lad his damaged plane in a farm field and he escaped with a fractured leg and cuts.

The cause of the triple disaster about 12:30 p. m. (EST) yesterday had been a complete mystery until Barcus gave his account at the Quantico, Va., Marine base hospital. He was taken there after climbing from the wreckage of his plane which hit near Nokesville, Va., about 35 miles north-west of Washington.

The Air Force also announced it had located a man who saw the planes go into the water and he fixed the approximate position as eight miles south of Quantico and seven miles north of Maryland Point lighthouse on the Potomac.

Columns Blast Their Way Into Red Pyongyang

U. S. Cavalry Division First In City

(By The Associated Press)

Most of Pyongyang, Communist capital of North Korea, was in the hands of United Nations forces today. Red Premier Kim Il Sung and members of his government have fled to the north.

U. S. Cavalry Division First In City
Tank-led units of the U. S. First Cavalry division and the South Korean Republic's First division joined up near the heart of the city.

Communists surrendered by the thousands. The capital appeared deserted by its 700,000 inhabitants.

Premier Flee
Associated Press Correspondent Don Whitehead said it was an easy contest. Only a few snipers and diehard Communists were attempting to stop the inexorable advance of the Allies.

The Communists had not planned it this way. Banners strung across the streets called on the people to "defend this city to the last." But there was no real defense.

Pyongyang civilians told a South Korean army spokesman that Premier Kim and his Communist government had flown the coop. They were said to have fled to Huichon, 80 miles to the north.

Escape roads northward were jammed. But in Tokyo, intelligence officers said there is no indication the Korean Reds are planning an organized defense line north of Pyongyang.

Winners By 3 Hours
Two allied columns, in a hell-for-leather race to be the first inside the city, blasted their way from two sides. The U. S. First Cavalry, which had been first inside Manila and Tokyo in World War II and linked the two beachheads in South Korea, coming in from the south, won the roaring race. It was credited with being ahead of the South Korean First division, which approached Pyongyang from the east, by three hours.

An Eighth army spokesman said the cavalry troopers and the South Koreans ran into heavy enemy artillery and mortar fire on the outskirts of the city which stopped them for a time.

Behind the cavalry were four United Nations divisions and a British Commonwealth brigade

Dewey Recalls 1928 Financing For Roosevelt

New York Democrats Charge GOP Payoff

NEWBURGH, N. Y. — (AP)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey declared last night that wealthy Democrats had helped the late Franklin D. Roosevelt meet $200,000 in obligations to induce him to run for governor of New York in 1928.

Dewey, fighting Democratic charges of a GOP nomination "payoff" in the current New York campaign, based his statement on quotations from books written by two former national chairmen of the Democratic party. The books are "You're the Boss" by Edward J. Flynn and "Jim Farley's Story" by James A. Farley.

Raskob Gets Money
Dewey said in a state-wide radio broadcast that $50,000 of the money was promised personally by John J. Raskob, one-time Democratic national chairman who died last Sunday. And Raskob promised to help in getting the rest of the $200,000, Dewey added.

Citing the books, Dewey said Roosevelt "owed money" at that time (1928) to the Warm Springs foundation, which he had intended to run as a resort, and was reluctant to run for governor.

"That was the year the late Alfred E. Smith ran for president, and Democratic leaders wanted Mr. Roosevelt on the ticket to lend strength."

Dewey, who is running for re-election, brought up the subject of FDR's finances in answer to Democratic charges that Joe R. Hanley, Republican Lieutenant Governor, was promised relief from financial obligations if he would consent to a nomination switch.

Dewey said he hadn't "the slightest criticism" of the 1928 Roosevelt incident, and added:

"I wish we had a Raskob in the Republican party who would help out Joe Hanley—but unfortunately we haven't."

Dewey asserted the fact that Hanley was burdened with $100,000 in private debts after 24 years in public office was evidence that Hanley was "an honest politician."

Bureau Decides Against Drive

Industrial Fund Held Not Feasible

Officers and directors of the Upper Peninsula Development Bureau, at an executive committee meeting held in Marquette Wednesday, endorsed the program presented by the Bureau's industrial action committee but decided against a fund raising campaign to support a new industrial division.

During a discussion of the problem, it was estimated it would cost $5,000 a year to finance the industrial division. With the Upper Peninsula Development Bureau now faced with a deficit of several thousand dollars, it would be unwise for it to assume additional financial burdens, it was pointed out.

In a resolution adopted at the meeting, the executive committee asked the Michigan Department of Economic Development to increase its field personnel in the Upper Peninsula and also urged local communities to launch industrial promotion programs.

The executive committee voted to place a service charge of 50 cents a copy on the 1951 issue of the Bureau's Lure Book. Various tourist promotion activities were also discussed.

Among those present at the meeting were: Jeff Bodette and John I. Keeton, Munising; Clarence Dubuque and Ben Grobaski; L. Anse; H. J. Billings, Iron River; Robert Sayles, Newberry; C. J. Crocker, Ontonagon; R. W. Jenner, James Beckman, George E. Bishop, Marquette; William Johnson, Ironwood; Fred Helman, Manistiquette; Mrs. L. C. Jacobs, Baraga; A. J. Jacobson, Marquette; and William L. Marble, Gladstone.

Planning Commission Reconsiders Rezoning US-2 Approach To City

After hearing an imposing array of arguments in opposition to the rezoning of Ludington street west of 23rd street in Class A residential area, the city planning commission last night agreed to re-study the problem.

L. M. Fleming, manager of the Fleming-Smith Bottling company, contended that the area in dispute is not good residential area because of the heavy traffic on US-241 and because of swampy conditions which make the cost of land fill extremely expensive.

He said that when he built the bottling plant in that area four years ago, he was encouraged to do so by city officials and was assured that the land was zoned for commercial purposes.

Fleming said that the population of the Upper Peninsula has decreased 32,000 in the last 10 years and contended that cities should encourage industries and businesses to develop to stabilize employment, rather than to dis-

Blast Wounds Young Hunter

Negaunee Youth Is Accident Victim

NEGAUNEE—Ralph Johnson, 17, of 761 West Iron street, today is in critical condition in Negaunee hospital from an accidental gunshot wound sustained in a hunting accident yesterday morning five miles northeast of Negaunee.

The youth was shot in the back, the blast of No. 6 bird shot from a 16 gauge shotgun shattering his spine near the small of the back. Ribs on the right side were also fractured.

Conservation officers who investigated the accident reported the shotgun was carried by Turri Johnson, 14, brother of Ralph.

The two brothers and their father were on a grouse hunting trip. The father was at the car parked on the road and the brothers were hunting a short distance away when Ralph flushed a grouse and knocked it down with a shot from his gun.

The two boys ran toward the fallen bird and the trigger of Turri's gun caught in the brush, discharging the weapon into Ralph's back at a distance of about ten feet.

The accident occurred at 9:30 a. m. and the father rushed his wounded son to Negaunee hospital. Ralph is a student at Negaunee high school.

Ask Care With Fire In Woods

Autumn Sun-Wind Dry Out Forests

Bright sun and warm winds have dried dead vegetation on the ground and increased the hazard of forest fires in the Delta county area, John Chriske, district conservation supervisor, said today in issuing a plea for care in the use of fire in the woods.

Fallen leaves and frost-killed ferns litter the ground, tinder for a carelessly discarded match. Most forest fires are man-caused and the majority are started by smokers.

Hunters and others who will be in the woods in the next few days should be particularly careful with matches and should be sure to extinguish camp fires. The hazard will not end until there is a general rain in the area, Chriske pointed out.

Well-spaced rains through most of the past spring and summer in the Upper Peninsula, together with added care on the part of the public, has kept forest fires to a minimum, according to conservation department reports.

The year will end as one of the best on record unless bad fires occur during the remainder of the Autumn season.

Pioneer Steamship Orders New Carrier, To Be 640 Feet Long

BAY CITY, Mich.—(P)—Pioneer Steamship Co. of Cleveland announced award of a contract for a new 640-foot-long bulk freighter, to be built by the Defoe Shipbuilding Co. of Bay City.

The ore carrier is to be delivered in the spring of 1952, John T. Hutchinson, president of Pioneer said. Cost, which was not announced, probably will be about $5,000,000.

Pioneer Steamship now operates a fleet of 16 bulk freighters.

Believe It Or Not, We Like It Here In Michigan's Icebox

FROM time to time we have heard proposals that the Upper Peninsula be given back to the Indians, but N. E. Tracy, of Coopersville, Mich., a contributor to the public forum column of the Grand Rapids Press, has come forth with a new and certainly more novel suggestion. He proposes that Michigan give the Upper Peninsula to the federal government for a national park.

According to Tracy, if the northland, as he calls it, were a government park, Michigan would not have to pay for the expense of keeping it up but would profit from the tourist trade, "just as it does now." Apparently, a case of having your cake and eating it, too.

Our friend Tracy continues as follows:

"Probably the northland can never be developed as a home for permanent residents due to its unfavorable limits and soil. The people who live there now must feel that they are being neglected and deprived of their rights as citizens of a great state. Yet it is mainly their own fault as they can easily move to the south where opportunities for enjoyment and health are far better. There are plenty of good jobs in Detroit and anyone would prefer living near Detroit or Grand Rapids than in Michigan's icebox, where there is ice and snow up to your ears six months in the year and plenty of icy wind even in the summer.

"But it is a good place for deer and bear and if all the people would move out and let the wild animals take possession, everything would work out all right. Maybe if Michigan did not have to spend so much for roads in the north we could build some decent ones down here where they are used and needed."

We are extremely sorry to disillusion our Lower Peninsula friend who is so solicitous of our welfare, but most of us up here in the northern wilderness probably will still insist upon our right to push the bear from their dens to make room for us. The Indians got along with the deer and the bear so why can't we?

Believe it or not, we like this icebox.

Reich To Get U. S. Recruits

THE recent decision by the U. S. to have newly-inducted army recruits receive their basic training in occupied Germany is one that will have far-reaching effects.

Since the suggestion for such action came from certain German political leaders, some observers might find therein an indication that the U. S. has decided to give the Germans more voice in occupation policy-making.

However, from a strategic point alone the decision was a wise one. What better place is there to train men than in the very spot where they may have to fight? In addition, it will build up the Western European defense forces that are face to face with 175 Red divisions now stationed along the borders of the Russian zone of occupation.

ANVILS RINGING

A philosopher once observed it is difficult for man to employ fully several senses simultaneously when in the presence of great beauty. When October's flaming glory is on the land and wisps of thin, purple haze caress the hills, our eyes are so concerned with the color climax that ears may not hear the music that distinguishes this month on the downhill side of summer. Sun and frost are locked in their annual seasonal competition; nights fling out cold chains in an attempt to lock the land; each mellow noonday the sun unlocks the padlock. While the elemental, primal forces of warmth and cold struggle for supremacy, the anvil chorus is ringing. Listen to the bluejays. They flash through the sugar bush and over the orchard; their piercing, clarion bugles are one of autumn's definite signals. These are loud notes but there are other sounds.

Squirrels scold and chatter as they scurry among oak and hickories, storing food in countless caches for use in winter thaws and in the early spring. The last of the summer-staying crows congregate in polemic caucus on brown meadows and sun-faded uplands.

When a cold, driving October rain drenches the land and a man is putting along in the comfortable farm shop, the powerful rhythmic gusts that beat against the windows and on the tin roof are pounding out an ancient message. Men who listen for the voices that distinguish each segment of the turning year claim that the anvils ring clearest on a cold, star-bright night when the north wind is laughing and shrieking in the hills. The wind may occasionally whisper or momentarily lower its voice; but there are many times when it shouts and blusters. When you hear the hoarse voices from the upland ridge at night you can be sure that year is pounding its anvil. As the frost begins to deepen and cold begins to thicken, the anvil notes are fair warning.—By Haydn Pearson.

Indo-China To Be Another Korea?

THE sudden turn of events in Indo-China, where China-trained and equipped Communist Vietnamese troops have inflicted heavy setbacks on the French, may involve the U. S. in a very short time.

Already France's defense minister, Jules Moch, is in Washington to request stepped-up American aid lest Indo-China become another Korea.

Should Chinese Red troops decide to enter the battle (a fact which would be hard to detect due to the strong racial resemblance between the Chinese and the Vietnamese), the French forces there would be in desperate straits.

In the eventuality of such Chinese intervention, the U. S. would face a grave decision. Would it be better to oblige Moscow by continuing to engage in these diversionary engagements, spending our strength against satellites while Russia's armies remain intact? Or should we abandon the French in their colonial crisis and perhaps alienate an important ally in the defense of Western Europe. In either event, the decision won't be an easy one to make.

Junior's Plight

By Gordon Martin

When you said goodbye to Junior for another college term, and you handed out advice along with admonitions firm, then you stressed the need for writing home about his college work, and that letters to his parents were a task he shouldn't shirk. So you're not surprised the Junior often writes to you a note, but you think it's strange he always had the same request to quote:

"I am well and hope you are the same, my bank account is low and I'll soon be busted flat unless you send along some dough. I have met a girl I like quite well, she surely has good looks, but she's no reason I am broke—I spend it all for books. So please rush to me a check before I get another dun, and with best regards to all, I still remain your loving son."

Too, he always adds a postscript saying how he studies hard, though his efforts some professors always seem to disregard. But as weeks go by, his every letter has the same old plea, of an urgent need for cash while in pursuit of his degree. So you wonder if you erred when you demanded that he write, for each letter stresses nothing but his sad financial plight.

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

LOS ANGELES—There is a tendency on the part of some candidates in the current election campaign to wave their war service record before the voters as a great political asset. When a candidate thus appeals for votes he then automatically invites public scrutiny of his war record.

Such a situation exists in California where candidate Edward Shattuck is played up as a "veteran of two wars" in his race for the important job of attorney general.

The record of Colonel Shattuck happens to be interesting. It is interesting not only to California voters but to every family whose son or husband is being drafted into the armed forces. For Colonel Shattuck occupied a high-up place in the selective service office in Washington with its power of life or death over much of the nation.

Yet, while he held this key war post, and was busy drafting others, the record shows that he kept his own public-relations man in California ready to promote and publicize everything he did. In fact, Shattuck had decided even as early as 1941, before Pearl Harbor, that he would use his war job to run for political office.

No scrap of publicity was too meagre for the colonel to overlook if it served to promote his political future.

"We might try for a story in the monthly alumni California magazine," Shattuck wrote his publicity man on July 3, 1941, after he was made general counsel of selective service. "And the U. S. C. alumni news. Stan Barnes could help on California, and Harry Silke on U. S. C. You might also try Los Angeles Jr. Chamber of Commerce bulletin and perhaps a word to the 20-30 magazine in Sacramento would get an article there."

"MIGHT GIVE US A BREAK"

"It seems to me I recall a California magazine similar to Look which might give us a break. Jim Mussatti might give it a ride in the state chamber publicity. I believe that this particular assignment is worth playing for all the publicity we can get. Anywhere there is a good tie-in should be used to the limit."

"The primaries are in August," continued Colonel Shattuck. "If things broke just right and enough publicity went out meantime, this might be an ideal set-up. If things break so that I can run, I will. (At that time he planned to run for governor or lieutenant governor of California.)"

"Are there any big conventions coming to Los Angeles where a national-defense speech with emphasis on selective service could be made and to which we could wangle an invitation? There might be some American Legion convention, even though only the state convention or some such. Anyway, would you find out? Such an invitation directed to Gen. Lewis B. Hershey especially requesting the hometown boy, would I am sure, bring results. Of course the origin of this suggestion will always remain just between you and me."

DISAPPOINTING RESULTS

Meanwhile, Colonel Shattuck was given the job of calling out the numbers with President Roosevelt in the draft lottery, and the nation-wide publicity he got made him hungry for more. So he sent word to his publicity agent to get set for another draft drawing on July 17, 1941. Next day his publicity agent reported disappointing results.

"I got your wire stating that you would take the mike for the first fifteen minutes (of the draft lottery) and I then covered the metropolitan papers. They were all set to use the story, but unfortunately the draft lottery was so handled at your end as to completely obliterate your self."

"We did get one break, however, in that on the morning of the drawing I had made arrangements with the radio stations to use your name and fortunately Pat Bishop did so on two broadcasts last night and you were also mentioned on three other stations in newscasts. Other than that there is no reward."

At another draft lottery Mrs. Shattuck wrote a disappointed letter March 13, 1942, to the colonel's publicity man in California.

"There seems to be nothing at all to work on in this next draft thing," Mrs. Shattuck wrote from Washington. "They are cutting down practically all the thrills and frills. Ed just told me to ask you about calling Johnny Cohan on it."

Take My Word For It . . . Frank Colby

PRONUNCIATION CLINIC

The "eye" sound in either and neither has never prevailed in American speech, nor do all Britons so pronounce the words. Noah Webster recognized only the "ee" sound; as: EE-ther. Indeed, the "eye" sound was unknown when Webster compiled his dictionary. Prior to the 18th century the words were pronounced AY-ther and NAY-ther, in accordance with the custom of pronouncing the digraph "ei" as "ay," as is still the case in such words as freight, neigh, neighbor, weigh, etc.

Apparently no one knows how the eye-ther — ny-ther pronunciations started. There is a theory that the long "eye" sound originated with George I, who was brought to England from Germany in 1714 and placed upon the English throne. His halting English was spoken with a decided German accent. And, since in German the digraph "ei" always has the sound of long "i" it was natural for him to say eye-ther and ny-ther, instead of the then correct ry-ther and nayther. Fawning courtiers began to imitate the king's Germanic pronunciations, and eye-ther and ny-ther were taken up by the upper classes and those who followed their lead. This theory, however, is held to be groundless; hence, the exact source of the high-sounding but somewhat dubious eye-ther and ny-ther must remain shrouded in uncertainty.

But it is a fact that to the average American, except along the Eastern seaboard, there is something priggish in the eye-ther and ny-ther pronunciations, which Mencken calls "conscious affectations."

Red Atrocities In Korea May Go Unpunished By Lack Of Evidence

WILL THEIR MURDERERS GO FREE? Lying side-by-side in the gulch where they were lined up and shot by North Korean Reds, these are bodies of American victims of Communist war atrocities. The Army has established five clear-cut cases of such atrocities, involving 84 U. S. soldiers, but as yet no attempt has been made to find the guilty persons. This famed picture of an infamous act was taken by NEA-Acme Staff Correspondent Stanley Tretick.

By DOUGLAS LARSEN

NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON — (NEA) —

Communist leaders guilty of ordering the aggressive war in Korea and the atrocities against UN troops and South Korean civilians stand a good chance of going unpunished.

This is the candid opinion of Washington experts on war crimes.

It is based on the apparent neglect of both the UN commission and U. S. Army in Korea to go after specific evidence which will pin the crimes on those leaders who ordered the atrocities and aggression.

The U. S. State Department liaison officer with the UN commission there claims that it is the Army's job to gather the evidence against the guilty persons.

So far the only evidence gathered by the mission that atrocities have been committed are items such as pictures of bodies. The State Department spokesman says there has been no attempt made by UN officers in Korea to locate or identify the criminals guilty of ordering the atrocities let alone the underlings who carried out those orders.

At the Pentagon an official spokesman claims it is the view of the Army that the gathering of evidence against specific war criminals is the job of UN officials.

The latest UN commission report estimates that there are at least 25,000 victims of North Korean atrocities, including civilians and UN troops. The latest Army report says that five clear-cut cases of war atrocities, involving 84 U. S. soldiers, have been established.

The report also lists 20 other "possible cases" involving 95 U. S. servicemen. These cases are still under investigation but have not been definitely established as "clear-cut violations" of the accepted rules of warfare. Finally, the report lists three cases of possible atrocities committed on more than 1000 South Korean civilians.

Unless guilt can be fixed on individuals, in an international court of law, a war crimes expert states, the most that will ever come of these atrocities is a lot of speech-making before the UN. And it will obviously be impossible to invoke the historical precedents of Nuremberg and the Tokyo trials, and hold up individuals before the world as charged with specific crimes.

It is pointed out that two weeks after the German surrender, trained crews of experienced criminal lawyers were working in Germany gathering evidence, which would stand up in a court of law, against the Nazi leaders. The job was not turned over directly to the Army because there was an obvious need to gather other than military-type information.

As a result of the care exercised in gathering specific written evidence and eye-witness testimony, the fairness of the way the Nuremberg trials themselves were conducted has never been challenged even by the Germans, although the theory of a victor trying the vanquished has.

However, the argument against the victor trying the vanquished does not apply to the Korean case, it is pointed out. The UN as an independent world agency is now in existence and can act as an independent judge.

Former members of the legal teams which gathered the damning facts of the Nuremberg trials point out that specific evidence against war criminals disappears very fast. Witnesses forget or leave an area. Papers and documents are destroyed. They claim there is little chance to go back and find information which has once been overlooked.

They fear the time that has elapsed since South Korea was freed has been long enough for much evidence to have been lost. Further, they contend, if the confusion between the Army and the UN continues as to who should go after such evidence, no fair trial in the Nuremberg tradition could be held.

However, another important factor in the whole problem is the actual capture of the war criminals. To date there has been no report of any high North Korean officials or military brass captured. You have to have defendants in hand to conduct trials against them.

Finally, the experts fear, unless specific evidence against specific Communist officials is obtained, the world propaganda value of the atrocities will be lost.

Russia, by her participation in the Nuremberg trials, is automatically on the moral side of prosecuting war criminals. It would be difficult for Soviet UN delegates to oppose the prosecution of such crimes on a theoretical basis. But if there is no evidence against specific individuals, the Reds will have an easy way out.

Good Evening . . .

By CLINT DUNATHAN

IN THE BEGINNING—Currently the people of Escanaba are discussing, with more than usual interest, the needs of the community in relation to its educational program.

Principal Edward E. Edick, speaking to the Escanaba Rotary club last Monday, outlined the history of Escanaba public schools to provide background for his discussion of secondary education as provided by our Senior high school.

The first school in Escanaba was built before 1866, only a couple years after settlement of the community began. It was not a "free" or tax-supported school but was financed by subscription of the parents.

And then in 1866 the first Escanaba school district was organized, a school was located on lots now occupied by Carnegie Public Library, and Miss Emily Dunbar was the first teacher. The children attended school for three months of the year.

THE FULL YEAR—That first school was a temporary arrangement, probably all too temporary to satisfy the youngsters of the community.

The following year, 1867, the Brown school was built on Sand Point at a cost of $600 and the educational program was carried on for three terms of three months each. Already there was the beginning of separation into age groups and "graduation" to higher grades, for the children could graduate from a first to a second room.

THREE GRADUATES—There was an almost immediate demand for more room for students in the rapidly-growing community of Escanaba.

In 1871 two more rooms were added; the school term was nine months, with a four-month term for smaller children. "And it was in that year there was added the distinguished title of principal," smiled Principal Edick. "Nelson Leach was the first principal."

The Gray school was built in 1877 and the school year extended to 10 months. That original Gray school building later became the Washington Annex — and is now part of the Michigan hotel. Eight teachers served for the entire year, and a two-year high school course was added.

"The first graduating class was in 1881, and you may be interested in the names of the graduates—Mary Garner, Nora Keating and Minnie Lott," Edick reported. "The first Escanaba superintendent of schools was A. R. Northrup."

Escanaba schools were then on a 4-4-2 plan—four years of primary grades, four years upper elementary, and two years of high school.

TURNING POINT—By the year 1891, 25 years after the first school was built in Escanaba, the community was speaking with pride of its school system.

The first wing of the present Franklin school had been built and the high school course had been extended to three years. There was a growing interest in the athletic program and the curriculum included music, art and debate. The first school play? The ever-popular "Snow White."

In 1894 the Escanaba high school was placed on the accredited list by the University of Michigan. The U. of M. system of accrediting schools was begun in the state in 1871.

One of the chief hurdles in public education had been cleared back in 1872 by ruling of the courts in the famous "Kalamazoo case" in which the question was raised of providing tax-supported high school education.

The courts ruled that high schools are an extension of the public school educational program and therefore should be tax-supported—a ruling that has been cited many times since in support of free education at the secondary level.

LOOKING AHEAD—Enrollment in the schools continued to climb, public interest in the schools and the educational program was high, and the people were already talking of the need of additional grade schools—and possibly a new Senior high school.

There was no lack of community interest.

(Second and last of two columns on the history of Escanaba schools will be presented tomorrow.)

Into The Past

10 YEARS AGO

Escanaba—Members of the Escanaba Woman's club met Thursday afternoon to hear Glenn D. McGeoch, assistant professor of music, University of Michigan, speak on the great interest in good music today.

Pattison, 1222 Eighth avenue south, has been named treasurer of Hillcrest Village, a group of 100 women students at Michigan State college. Miss Pattison is a freshman at Michigan State.

Escanaba—Escanaba's record of going through more than nine months without a traffic fatality was marred this week when an infirmity inmate was struck by an automobile on US 2-41 near the north city limits.

20 YEARS AGO

S. S. D'Artagnan, In The Red Sea—President Hoover's only gift to Ras Tafari, who next month will be crowned emperor of Abyssinia, is an autographed photograph of himself, it was learned today. President Van Hinderberg of Germany, on the other hand, in addition to sending his autograph, also is sending 500 bottles of the finest Rhine vintage.

Powers—Organization of a Tri-County Nurses association, including in its memberships nurses of Delta, Menominee and Dickinson counties, has been completed following a dinner meeting held at Powers. Escanaba members include Miss Gertrude Sheehan, school nurse, and Mrs. Laura Kirkman, welfare nurse.

Safe Hunting Rules Cited

Urge Common Sense In Handling Guns

Thoughtlessness and haste on the part of the hunter are two factors that are responsible for most of the hunting accidents, both in the present small game season and later during the deer season, Michigan conservation department statistics reveal.

Carelessness in handling firearms annually takes a toll of deaths and injuries among the ranks of the hunters. The 1950 season "casualty list" already is high and includes four deaths and more than a score wounded. "Make sure of the target before firing," is one of the cardinal rules of hunting.

Reports show that almost two-thirds of the hunting accidents are caused by one of three things: 1—Humans in line of fire; 2—Mistaking humans for game; and 3—Hunting with safety catch off. There are the so-called "10 commandments" for hunting safety, which if observed, may help to save a life—perhaps your own, authorities point out. The rules are listed as follows:

Treat every gun with the respect due a loaded gun; have only empty guns in auto, camp, or home; always be sure the barrel is clear of obstruction; always be careful to control the direction of the muzzle, even if you stumble. Be sure of your target before you pull the trigger; never point a gun at anything you do not want to shoot; never leave your gun unattended unless you unload it first; never climb a tree or fence with a loaded gun; never shoot a flat, hard surface or the surface of the water; and never mix gun powder and alcohol.

Orb Spider Had First Telegraph

NEW YORK — (AP) — Modern communications experts who have been looking into the matter think the orb spider got ahead of them ages ago. The spider's system still works perfectly.

One strand of her web is run some distance to a special hide-away that the spider uses as a bedroom. The strand is pulled to a special tension and then the spider goes to sleep. When an insect gets caught in the web, that strand vibrates. The vibration wakes up the spider for dinner.

City Police Warn Residents Of New Telegram Racket

If you receive a telegram from a relative asking for money, doublecheck to be certain the relative actually sent the message. This warning was issued today by M. F. Ettenhofer, chief of police, following discovery of a "confidence game" being worked through Western Union telegraph offices.

"The telegraph company is checking carefully to prevent use of their wires for such purposes, but persons in Milwaukee have recently sent telegram messages to two Escanaba families asking for $25," the police chief stated.

In one case here, the family called to Milwaukee and learned that the request for money was not sent by the relative. They had already sent the money, and it was not received by the relative supposedly asking for it. In the other case, the relative in Milwaukee received the money, and called home to ask why his parents were "sending him $25."

The confidence game is being worked from Milwaukee by persons close to relatives of the Escanaba families, for the men sending the telegrams and receiving the money have been able to answer the "catch" questions on Western Union telegraph money drafts, Ettenhofer states.

G. S. Leonard, director of public safety, stated this morning that with the increase in draftees to the armed forces, parents should be cautious of any requests for money. "Rackets which victimize parents often become quite common during a war or a period of mobilization," Leonard stated.

Scout Finance Drive Planned

Fund Campaign To Start Oct. 30

Coordination of plans for a Delta county campaign to assist in financing the program of the Boy Scouts of America was discussed last night at a meeting of the Boy Scout fund committee chairmen. The drive will be held Oct. 30 to Nov. 10 and the goal for Delta county is $7,500.

Escanaba, Bark River and Rapid River will hold independent Boy Scout fund drives. The drives to raise funds for the program will be held at a later date. In Gladstone and Nahma, however, the Oct. 30 to Nov. 10 campaign will be a joint appeal for both Boy and Girl Scouting.

At the meeting last evening community organization was discussed. A detailed account of the Hiawatha Council budget was presented to the group.

In a membership report, Andy Houston, field Scout executive, reported a gain of 128 boy members in Scouting in the Red Buck district during the past year. At present there are 700 registered boys and 208 adults in leadership and administration for a total of 908 registered Scouts and Scouters in Red Buck district.

Attending the meeting last night were E. G. Bennett, county Boy Scout Fund campaign chairman; Nyal Witham and John Landon, Escanaba; A. B. Ellington, Reuben Siquist and Oscar Ohman, Gladstone; Henry Boyle and Alfred Anderson, Bark River; and Victor Thibault, Nahma.

Bay City Boy Plays Cowboy With Dad's Gun, Kills Sister, 4

BAY CITY, Mich. —(P)—Four-year-old Judy LaPan was shot and killed by her brother, Thomas, 7, last night while he was playing cowboy with his father's shotgun.

The gun was the same one used by the children's father, Lyle, in shooting a pheasant.

The tragedy took place in a bedroom while the father was showing the pheasant he had killed to friends nearby. Mrs. LaPan also was away.

The father told police he had unloaded the gun but left the shells in the bedroom. The boy told questioners the gun was cocked.

ready to fan out around the city and secure it.

Scattered As Guerrillas

But there seemed little chance of further large-scale enemy resistance. So speedy was the allied advance that the Red's overall defense plan seemed to have been shattered. Allied commanders said the comparative ease with which the capital was captured might indicate a change in the war that started June 25 when the North Koreans invaded South Korea in force. The war from now on, they said, might be in the nature of scattered guerrilla actions.

While United Nations forces chalked up this victory, diplomats at Lake Success were attempting to work out a system of peace patrols in a new anti-aggression program sponsored by the United States and six other nations. The sponsors met behind closed doors to discuss Russia's demand to serve on the patrols.

Weather Just Swell In Paradise And Hell And In Between Too

(By The Associated Press)

In both Paradise and Hell it was beautiful today—Indian summerish.

Hell is in Southern Michigan and it was 10 degrees warmer there than in Paradise, which is in Northern Michigan across Whitefish Bay from Canada. It was 74 degrees in Hell and 64 degrees in Paradise, 300 miles upstate.

In between, the weather was beautiful, too. It has been for the last week, with near-record October highs prevailing in most spots.

Temperatures ranging from 60 to 75 in Paradise are vastly different from those of its winters, when thermometer drops below freezing and stays there until the spring thaws it out.

The southern hamlet often freezes over, but sub-zero days there are few.

Paradise is 65 miles west of Sault Ste. Marie. Hell about 20 miles north of Ann Arbor.

Cooler weather is forecast for both upper and lower Michigan tonight, with temperatures ranging down to 40 degrees as far south as Detroit.

"Continued cool" is the prediction for Friday throughout the state.

Australia Outlaws Communist Party

CANBERRA, Australia. —(P)—Australia today became the 27th nation to outlaw the Communist party. A bill ordering dissolution of the party, seizure of its assets and expulsion of declared Communists from key union and government posts passed quickly through the senate after the Labor party members Tuesday withdrew their opposition. The lower house had passed the bill long ago.

Chicago Prices

CHICAGO BUTTER —(P)—Butter, steady; receipts 2,308; wholesale selling prices unchanged to 1/2 cent higher; 89 C, 59; cars, 89 C, 60.

CHICAGO EGGS —(P)—Eggs, nervous; receipts 7,512; wholesale selling prices unchanged to 1/2 cent lower; chicks, 25.

CHICAGO GRAIN —(P)—All the bullish luster which had made soybeans sparkle in the previous session disappeared on the Board of Trade today.

Soybeans opened on losses extending to nearly five cents and continued to hang several cents under yesterday's closing, the early dealers. The trading pace slackened considerably, with processors notably absent from the buying side.

Other grains showed only minor price changes. Wheat displayed a little firmness on reports of a better domestic flour business, particularly in the southwest. But both corn and oats had to absorb profit-taking following yesterday's upturn.

Wheat at the end of the first hour was 1/4 to 3/4 higher, December $2.02 1/2; corn was unchanged to 1/4 lower, December $1.27 1/2; oats were 1/4 to 1/2 lower, December $1.15; soybeans were 1/2 to 2 cents lower, November $2.30 1/2, and hard was unchanged to eight cents a hundred pounds higher, October $12.62.

Coast Guards To Be Built Up

Ports And Ships Get Added Protection

WASHINGTON — (P) — The Coast Guard said today it expects to build up its forces to carry out President Truman's orders for it to protect American ports and ships against sabotage and subversive activities.

The guard's present strength is about 2,500 officers and 20,500 enlisted men. How big an increase will be made was not announced. The Coast Guard has been authorized to use the draft to get more men if volunteers are insufficient.

Coast Guard headquarters said it contemplates a "limited program of port security" for the time being, to include:

1. Control over loading of explosives and other dangerous cargoes and on-the-spot supervision of commercial explosive loading in designated areas.

2. Identification of waterfront workers and others to prevent poor security risks from gaining access to restricted waterfront areas.

3. Identification of seamen to prevent poor security risks from sailing on U. S. merchant vessels. This will shift present screening of seamen to a compulsory basis from the present basis of voluntary agreement between maritime labor and management.

The Coast Guard said detailed regulations to implement the program will be issued soon.

Five Dionnes Pay First Visit To New York

said—in timid but easy English—that the bright lights were "wonderful" and they were "very happy" to be here.

The Dionnes, whose only other venture into the United States was in 1943 when they went to launch some ships in Wisconsin, came by train from Corbeil, Ontario.

The peeping through train windows was done while they waited for policemen, policewomen and priests to make room on the platform so they could get through the crowd.

Schoolmates Along With them was papa Oliva Dionne, a short, thin, dapperly-dressed man who has fathered nine other children, and who seemed calm and unimpressed by the reception.

Ten awed girls, schoolmates of the quint, came along, with several teachers, a nurse and a few Dionne friends.

The quint stepped smartly — in their first high-heeled shoes, it was said — up the platform and into Grand Central station where 2,500 persons applauded them.

The quint's first look at the city was a quick one—across town in a bus, through Times Square, up Broadway to Central Park, and then to a hotel where they will stay during their four-day visit.

They were tired, but were sure to be more tired after today's events, which included a rehearsal for their singing appearance at the Alfred E. Smith Memorial Foundation banquet, a trip to the beach, more sight-seeing, and then the dinner.

Illegal Turn Trips Detroit Trucker With Untaxed Cigarettes

LANSING —(P)—The State Police reported today that an illegal turn trip has landed a Detroit trucker in trouble for the third time on a charge of hauling untaxed cigarettes.

The police said the Monroe county prosecutor had issued warrants for Charles P. Paris, 23, Detroit, after he was arrested by troopers with 270 cases of cigarettes valued at $24,000 in his truck.

The warrants, the police said, charge Paris with an illegal turn, using improper license plates, violating the cigarette tax act by acting as an unlicensed acquirer and the possession of untaxed cigarettes.

The police report said Paris was fined $100 and assessed more than $2,000 in taxes and penalties for a similar offense last May and on another occasion this year was acquitted of a similar charge but paid more than $5,000 in taxes and penalties.

Troopers, the police said, discovered the untaxed cigarettes when they stopped Paris' truck for making an illegal turn.

Grandma Carlen, 81, Takes 57-Mile Walk

DETROIT — (P)—Note to Port Huron and way stations: Grandma Carlen is on her way again.

Grandma Carlen is 81-year-old Mrs. Sylvia M. Carlen of Detroit, whose peculiar hobby in this age of wheels is walking, walking, walking.

She left Detroit at 5 a. m. and hopes to better her Detroit-Port Huron record of 12 hours. She has walked the 57 miles twice before.

"The older you get, the worse your walking becomes," she said. "You can't always count on making it, but I guess I'll go right on walking as long as I live."

For the Port Huron-Detroit leg of her journey she plans—to take a bus.

Heat Wave Near End In Great Lakes Area

(By The Associated Press)

The mid-October heat wave over the central part of the country appeared nearing an end today.

Cooler weather spread over the northern great plains and northern Rockies yesterday and was moving into the upper Mississippi valley. Temperatures, however, were expected to be above normal over most of the Midwest again today.

Readings hit record highs for the date yesterday over many parts of the Great Lakes region. They were in the high 80's in many cities—87 at Chicago, Kansas City, Minneapolis and St. Paul and 86 at Omaha and Marquette, Mich.

Snow fell in some of the central and western Canadian provinces, a short distance north of the U. S. border.

City Agent Fired

CHEBOYGAN — (P) — Dave Seeley has been on the city payroll as industrial representative at a salary of $100 a week since January. But he was off today. City council decided that one small industry that moved here from Hamtramck was not enough to justify the job.

The Valley of 10,000 Smokes in Alaska was formed when nearby Mt. Katmai erupted in 1912.

Delinquent Taxes Here Represent 7.3% Of Levy

Escanaba delinquent taxes in 1950 represent 7.3 per cent of the total levy of $190,389.99, it was reported at the city clerk's office today.

A total of $176,515.83 was collected in tax payments to Oct. 15, deadline for payment. The delinquent taxes this year constitute a sum of $13,874.16.

The 1949 delinquent taxes also constituted 7.3 per cent of the total, the same as this year. In 1948 delinquent taxes represented 6.6 per cent of the total levy. The 1949 levy was $191,486.61 and the 1948 levy was $180,624.40.

Wallpaper Workers Granted Pay Raise

PHILADELPHIA —(P)—Some 6,000 employees of nearly 40 wallpaper plants in 23 cities returned to work today with a contract calling for increased salaries and longer vacations.

The strike, which had idled most of the nation's wallpaper industry since Sept. 1, ended last night with members of the AFL-United Wallpaper Craftsmen and Workers Union accepting a wage increase of 12 1/2 cents an hour.

The union originally asked for an increase of 20 cents an hour.

Government Lines Up Another Blow At Building Boom

that residential construction will slump from this year's record of 1,300,000 homes started to a total of only 600,000 or even 400,000 in 1951.

This also will produce great savings of materials now being used up in the equipping and furnishing of new dwellings, the industry spokesmen argued. Finally, they asserted, the government should "sharply curtail" its own non-defense building as well as that of states and cities.

The latter proposal would apply not only to public works and buildings, but presumably to the big public housing program under which the government proposes to finance 810,000 units of subsidized housing for low-income families.

Gal from Texas Uncovers 'Cover Girl' In Paris

By ROSETTE HARGROVE
NEA Staff Correspondent

PARIS—(NJA)—It took a Texas gal to do it, but Paris now has professional cover girls. Texas-born Betty Metcalf, a top model in New York for several years, together with a 21-year-old French girl, Lorraine Dubonnet, have put the Parisian models on a sound financial and professional basis.

Lorraine, granddaughter of the manufacturer of the famous aperitif, met Betty at a luncheon at fashion designer Jacques Fath's home. The model agency idea was born at the luncheon table, but it took a year to get it in operation. It's called "Association Model Ideal," and the 14 girls working there are ideal models.

Together with a staff photographer and a secretary, the 14 models make up the AMI staff. The girls, in common with American model agency procedure, can pose for every type of photograph wanted.

Many of them have worked as clothes-models for Parisian designers. Some were artists' models. A few had no previous experience, among them members of French aristocracy, a singing student, a champion swimmer, and a dramatic student. The last two are Spanish girls.

"At least a score of girls come in every day," says Mlle. Dubonnet. "All shapes and sizes, too. Besides these, we are getting applications by mail from every part of France. A woman of 50 wrote to ask whether she couldn't pose. And an old man with a bushy white beard sent in a couple of pictures, suggesting that there might be a job for him."

The agency, incidentally, does have a "cover boy" or "er contract."

Metcalf, who interviews all candidates, declared that the ultimate goal of AMI is to have no more than 20 girls, "but the tops."

Through a connection with a New York model agency, she eventually hopes to establish an exchange of French-American models. Already, several American girls have come over to pose for French magazines. "We have two French girls now working in New York."

"We operate exactly on the same lines as an American agency," explained Betty. "We charge a set fee—3000 francs an hour (a little under $10). The models work exclusively for us and give us 10 per cent of their earnings." Three times a week Miss Metcalf holds classes in the art of posing and modelling. "What so many people over here don't understand," stresses Betty, "is that a girl may be a perfect mannequin according to French standards but is not necessarily photogenic, nor know the first word about posing. Most Frenchwomen, however, have to learn how to relax."

"I also teach them the tricks of the trade—to know their best profile, watch the lighting, never show the backs of their hands, always slant the hips but not the bust. Their knowledge of makeup is usually elementary."

What Betty is also trying to impress on potential cover-girls is that they must contrive to look both glamorous and interested—if not inspired—whether they are posing for an ad for toothpaste, a refrigerator or any other utilitarian article.

There are several of the AMI cover girls who are now earning between $400 and $500 a month. The higher fees charged by the agency for beauty and glamour have aroused some indignation on the part of business men and editors, who hitherto only paid half the price asked, but they usually end up by signing on the dotted line.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

As we get older, stress and strain, over-exertion, excessive smoking or exposure to cold sometimes slows down kidney function. This may lead many folks to complain of nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness. Getting up nights or frequent passages may result from minor bladder irritations due to cold, dampness or dietary indiscretions.

If your discomforts are due to these causes, don't wait, try Doan's Pills, a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. While these symptoms may often otherwise occur, it's amazing how many times Doan's give happy relief—help the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. Get Doan's Pills today!

Father Frank, Unique Chaplain In Unique War

By HAL BOYLE

With U. S. Second Division, Korea—(P)—When his boys go on patrol, Father Frank quietly picks up his rifle and goes with them. When they are wounded, he helps carry them out of danger.

And when death reaches out to take them, he gives them the last rites of his church. He has done that for more than 100 men in less than nine weeks and each time it has left him with a more sore heart. For they were no longer strangers to him but close friends. "I would rather be with them in the foxholes," he said.

I think Father Frank is the best loved chaplain I have ever met. He is a unique chaplain in a unique war. He doesn't want to be thought of as a hero. But he is—by American soldiers who don't want themselves thought of as heroes either although they are.

His name is Francis Leo Woods and he is a 46-year-old Catholic missionary priest who came to Korea from Ireland 15 years ago. Five years ago American occupation troops rescued him from starving at the hands of Japanese captors. He feels the Americans kept him from an even worse fate by landing here again and rolling back the Communist North Koreans.

No Rank Or Pay

"Twice they saved my life—and I wanted to do something in return," he said. He looked up an old friend—Lt. Col. James W. Edwards of Dallas, who had been here in 1945. Colonel Edwards said he would like to accept the priest's offer to serve as chaplain with his battalion but explained in embarrassment he couldn't offer him any rank or pay because Father Frank wasn't an American citizen.

"I want neither rank nor pay," Father Frank answered quietly. Since then the stocky, ruddy-faced priest has become the most popular figure in the second infantry division. And his advice is as eagerly sought by his regimental commanders as by the newest recruits.

"I think my lack of rank has been a help in my work," said Father Frank. He sleeps in the battalion commander's tent, eats with the enlisted men. Both officers and men like him for his shy kindness and the comfort he gives in their personal problems as much as for his personal bravery.

Christianity Saved

When I met Father Frank the battalion was in a rest area and he sat under a tree with some officers. They were joking about his front-line patrols and the years he spent as a boy in the Irish Republican army before he studied for the priesthood.

Because he speaks Korean fluently he is the battalion's best interrogator. The officers made Father Frank tell about one night attack by the enemy in force.

"The next morning there were six or seven bodies and one wounded Korean lying by a rice paddy," he recalled. "I called to him in his own tongue to put up his hands. He hesitated and I told him again. Finally enemy soldiers began standing up all over the rice paddy with their hands over their heads.

"Seventy finally stood up. I almost passed away when I saw them all."

I asked Father Frank what he thought of American soldiers and he said:

"I didn't think Americans could take it but they did. The American soldier can take a beating no other soldier in the world can endure. Yet he is no machine. He is civilized and can think for himself. He may like a bit of luxury but he can endure misery too."

"And by coming here he saved Christianity in this land."

Cod Liver Oil Bottled Here For County Use

Members of the Lay Health committee of Delta county Tuesday prepared 370 bottles of cod liver oil for distribution in Delta county.

The 30-gallon drum of oil for distribution here by the Delta-Meminee health department was obtained from funds collected under former Community Chest drives.

Handling bottling operations at the health center Tuesday were Mrs. Leonard Winling, Mrs. Robert Rouse, Mrs. Fred Weissert and Mrs. C. L. Diegel.

Because Community Chest has been abandoned in Delta County, other means to obtain funds for the cod liver oil project must be sought. Financing of the annual project was to be the major topic at a meeting of the lay health committee executive board, Dr. William C. Harrison, director of the Delta-Meminee Health department, and Miss Phoebe Anderson, nursing supervisor for the department of health, this afternoon.

Tickets may be obtained from any member of the musicians union, Local 663, AFM, and will be available at the door next Thursday night.

Liquefied Spices
Put On Market

Milady's food spicing problems become much easier this week with the announcement by Vanguard Associates of Chicago of the introduction of a complete line of liquefied spices for use in the home.

These pure spices, in liquid form running the complete range from anise to turmeric have been used by commercial food processors for many years, but have never been offered for home use before.

Putting the liquefied spices on sale to the public was the result of a survey, in which it was found that homemakers actually shunned the use of conventional spices, primarily because they did not understand their function, and were usually puzzled as to the amounts to use in a particular dish.

"Flagging Art"

"For some time we have felt that the use of spices in home cooking is fast becoming a lost art in America," said Benn F. Reyes of the Vanguard organization. "Many of our antecedents came to this country from other parts of the world where the use of spices is more prevalent and their influence was felt in our cuisine. However, with succeeding generations born here, the use of spices is becoming a flagging art."

Enlarging on the fact that the housewife generally does not understand the function of spices, Reyes went on to say that it seems odd that in this modern era, no great advance has been made in the spice field. "When you consider the great strides made by science in the kitchen, it is remarkable to note that we are still using spices in the same manner as they were used 2000 years ago," he said.

Vanguard research showed that many housewives do not want to take the chance of spoiling a dish—using conventional spices—by over or under spicing it. Hence, they have generally become accustomed to using the most rudimentary, and monotonous, flavorings.

Argyles Back
For Sweaters

Sweaters and hose are being matched up more than ever in recent years, marking a trend reminiscent of the all-Argyle craze of the 'Twenties, with Argyle hose, of course, riding high on the crest of the plaid trend.

The long-sleeve V-neck Skipper sweater, as usual, continues popular, while the nylon sweater, due to its inherent qualities of durability, washability, and ability to hold its shape is more than holding its own.

Boldly patterned ski sweaters, picturing everything from pine trees and skiers to abstract designs will be popular on the slopes this year and some of the sweaters come with matching wool stocking caps with pompoms on top, gay reminders of childhood types.

T-shirts are mostly woolen or heavy cotton for this season and are for the most part, in solid colors.

Utilize leftover potatoes and a small amount of leftover chicken or ham for a main dish: mash the potatoes and put in a baking dish; cream the chicken and ham and pour over the potatoes. Heat in a moderate oven until hot through and top layer is bubbly.

Creamed dried beef with tomato slices cauteed lightly makes a delicious Sunday night supper dish served over hot cooked rice or noodles.

Mrs. Juhl has three other children, all of whom live in Milwaukee.

Sweater-Blouse
Popular Wear

The sweater-blouse dyed-to-match its accompanying skirt runs away with top fashion honors.

Newest sweaters are styled with ribbing or yoke and collar detailing to make them look as much like blouses as possible. They are dyed-to-match exactly the color of the skirts they are paired with or appear in one of the key colors of the plaid, check or tweed of the skirt.

Foremost sweater-blouse styles to look to this fall are the short-sleeved cardigan with a little Peter Pan collar, the sweater-blouse with T-shirt styling, middy types with a low-waisted blouse feeling and sweater-blouses with button-on yokes.

New yarns and colors will add a brighter than ever look to fall sweaters. Heather and tweed yarn mixtures, fine gauge zephyr wools, nylon and cashmere mixtures are only a few of the new yarns. The red-orange to plum group, several shades of green and blue, many basic dark tones such as brown, navy and wine will all be seen as predominant sweater shades.

Mrs. H. J. Olson of Western Springs, Ill., and Mrs. Lee Carnegie of Columbus, Miss., left to return to their homes today, after spending several weeks here during the illness and subsequent death of their mother, Mrs. Ida Groth. Mrs. Olson was here two and a half months and Mrs. Carnegie for six weeks.

Chatham Couple
Marks Golden
Wedding Day

CHATHAM—Mr. and Mrs. Alex Peterson of Chatham celebrated their golden wedding anniversary, Sunday, Oct. 15, by holding open house for 150 friends and neighbors. Many cards and letters of congratulation came from out-of-town friends unable to call.

The Peterson house was attractively decorated with autumn leaves and garden flowers. Lunch was served at a table centered with a bowl of golden mums flanked by tall tapers. The wedding anniversary cake placed on a small side table, was served by Mrs. Jack Uvill, sister of Mrs. Peterson.

Prine Leaves Post
At Meeting Here

The resignation of R. L. Prine from the Schoolcraft county draft board was presented at a meeting of the board yesterday forenoon. Prine, who was serving as vice president of the board, is leaving Manistique about November 1 to accept the general management of a dimension plant in Asheville, N. C.

He has been manager of the Michigan Dimension company plant here for the past 26 years. His resignation as plant head was submitted two weeks ago.

A successor to Prine on the draft board has not been recommended yet, Mrs. R. J. Besner, clerk, reported.

Following the meeting the board's clerk revealed that the following men are being ordered up for physicals in November: Francis G. Tigras, Robert J. Rozich and John F. Schuetter, all of Manistique.

Seven will receive their induction call in November, Mrs. Besner said. They are: Noah J. Rushford, of Gould City; Lawrence P. Lubick, Kenneth J. Kane, Earle J. Eisele, Gerald S. Tufnell, and Richard E. Nigh, all of Manistique; and Earl C. Ayotte, transferred from Milwaukee.

Five men are included in the October induction call. They are: Roland P. Landwehr, Ronald J. Carefelle, Harold E. Beckman and Lloyd E. Swayer, all of Manistique; and Roger T. Carley, transferred from Ohio.

Boy Scout Troop 462 Is One of Most Active Here

Boy Scout troop No. 462, sponsored by the First Baptist church, is making an exceptional contribution to the Scouting program in Manistique, according to an article on the troop prepared by Rev. Paul Sobel, local Boy Scout commissioner. Rev. Sobel's article follows:

Scouting in Manistique has been advanced with the good aid of Troop 462 which is sponsored by the First Baptist Church. This troop has as its Scoutmaster, Bob Hentschell, a former scout in Manistique who went all the way in Scouting to receive the highest award — the Eagle badge. Mr. Hentschell brings to this newly organized troop of two years a background of rich experience of 10 years in Scouting.

24 Members

The troop has now in registration 24 members. There are 12 more places to be filled, and an invitation to any boy 11 years or over is extended. On the meeting nights the Baptist-sponsored troop meets in their building at the Fair Grounds, every Tuesday at p. m.

The boys take special pride in their building, for all the work and art one sees in and around it has been done by the boys themselves. Besides this fine activity the boys have a long list of various activities in which they have participated during the course of last year, including overnight hikes, day camping and field trips.

The past summer found several of the boys attending Camp Red Buck near Munising. One highlight was the troop's participation in a district Camporee early in the summer in which three patrols won blue ribbons and all three of them were patrols in Troop 462. Billy Schobert, one of their members, had the fortune of attending the National Boy Scout Jamboree held at Valley Forge. He has recounted the many fascinating and interesting experiences that were his on this memorable trip.

Outdoor Activities

Believing in outdoor activity and boy participation, Scoutmaster Hentschell has taken his boys on numerous hikes in which the boys have learned many ways of self-reliance, some of which are cooking, compass reading, woodcraft and first aid. There is great anticipation for a lively program for the fall and winter months.

Drive For Holiday
Lighting Fund Is Successful Here

The campaign to raise funds for a municipal Christmas lighting and decoration program here, sponsored by the retail division of the Top O'Lake Michigan Chamber of Commerce, was highly successful, it was reported yesterday by William H. Frederick, chamber secretary. Approximately $900 was either paid or pledged by local business firms to finance the project.

Ernest Eckland was chairman of the retail division's subcommittee in charge of the campaign. Based on the cash available a total of 20 fixtures have been ordered and are expected to arrive about Nov. 1. Frederick said. They will be installed on city light standards in the community's business areas by the Manistique Light and Power company. Evergreen decorations will be fastened to the light standards below and near the Christmas lights by the city of Manistique.

Eckland said yesterday that the lights would probably be installed during the latter part of November.

4-H Club Leaders
To Plan Program
Here On October 25

Schoolcraft county 4-H club leaders will meet at the court house in Manistique Wednesday, October 25, at 7:30 p. m. to plan the winter club program.

Miss Dorothy Erler, assistant state club leader, from Marquette, will present the material in clothing and other girls' projects. Fred Bernhardt, district 4-H club agent, will discuss woodworking, conservation, and other boys' activities.

It is expected that representatives from all rural communities in the county will be present.

Doris Hulshof Is
October Bride
Of Edwin DeMars

Baskets of white mums were the decorations for the marriage ceremony of Miss Doris Marilyn Hulshof, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Hulshof, 601 W. Elk, and Edwin DeMars, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rainey DeMars, 416 Arbutus, Saturday morning at the Zion Lutheran Church. The ceremony was performed by Rev. G. A. Herbert at 10:30 a. m.

Mrs. Maria Ahlstrom, church organist, played a prelude of organ music, and the traditional wedding march.

The bride wore a gown of white slipper satin fashioned with a fitted bodice of beaded pearl. The high neckline formed a chinese collar effect. The beaded tiara topped the illusion veil. She carried a bouquet of white gladiolus.

Miss Cleo Hulshof, sister of the bride, who was maid of honor, wore a dress of yellow mums in her hair and also carried yellow and rust mums.

The best man was William Larson.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Hulshof was attired in a bronze-colored crepe with green accessories. Mrs. DeMars wore a gray crepe print with black accessories. Yellow and rust mums formed their shoulder corsages.

A wedding dinner was held at the home of the bride for 24 guests.

The newlyweds are spending their honeymoon in Indianapolis and will make their home at Indian Lake upon return.

Both are graduates of Manistique high school and the new Mrs. DeMars is employed at the Manistique office of the Michigan Associated telephone company. The groom is employed at the Manistique Tool and Manufacturing company.

National Guard Here Is Pushing Recruiting Drive

In conjunction with other National Guard units throughout the country, the Manistique National Guard company is pushing an intensive recruiting program, it was announced yesterday by Capt. Edward J. Doyle, commanding officer.

Fifty-four additional enlisted men are needed to bring the local company to full strength, Capt. Doyle said. The present membership of the company is 70 enlisted men and five officers.

Vacancies also are open for non-commissioned ratings, he said.

Men between 17 and 35 years of age are eligible to join the Guard, but under a new ruling the 17-year-olds must have the written consent of their parents or guardian before being acceptable for enlistment.

Considerable additional equipment has been received by the Guard company here, Capt. Doyle reported. Included are two new-type 30-calibre machine guns with low tripods, which are shoulder-firing, and a large new two-way radio for the unit's three quarter ton truck. Other equipment received includes gas masks, bayonets, tripods for 50-calibre machine guns and anti-aircraft mounts for the 50-calibres.

A large air compressor is expected in a few weeks, Capt. Doyle reported. The company now borrows the city compressor when work with a jackhammer is required.

Cross Country
Race Is Feature
At Booster Game

An exhibition cross country race between Marquette and Manistique high school runners will take place between halves at the Marquette-Manistique football game here Friday night.

Ted Corombos, local cross country coach, said today he would use Jack Quinn, Walter Scharstrom, William Tufnell and either John Louis or James Schuster against Marquette.

The race will start in front of the grandstand at the end of the first half. The course will include a trip around the football field, followed by an exit through the north entrance of the stadium to US-2. The runners will go north on US-2 to the Tannery road and east on this road to intersection of the county shop road. From this point the course will be retraced to the stadium where the boys will again circle the field, enter the football area through the south goal posts and come to a stop in midfield.

Auto lights will be used to light the path of the run.

Last Saturday at the Upper Peninsula cross country meet in Escanaba, Manistique won second place. First place was taken by Escanaba, Ironwood and Marquette high schools won third and fourth places, respectively.

Bond Payment Is Scheduled

Feb. 1, 1951, Will Mark Retirement

Encouragement for the future construction of badly needed additional classroom space in the city school system is seen in the fact that on February 1, 1950, the final payment will be made on the public school bond issue, it was reported yesterday by A. F. Hall, superintendent of schools here.

The last payment, amounting to $12,000, will wipe out the balance of a bond issue of $170,000 floated in 1931 for the construction of the Junior high school building and gymnasium, the Lincoln school, and the remodeling of Lakeside school.

Total cost of this construction program, all said, was $225,000, but the schools had sufficient cash on hand to pay the difference without bonding for it.

In commenting on the need for more classroom space, Hall said that the present high school building was designed to accommodate 300 students. If used exclusively for city students the building would still be adequate, he stated, but the high school population now is greatly increasing.

Fall Planting Program Underway In Ranger Area

The fall planting program in the Manistique ranger district of the Hiawatha national forest, delayed by manpower shortage, will be completed about the end of October, it was reported yesterday by E. R. Crook, Manistique ranger.

Planting started October 1 and would have been completed in 15 or 20 days under normal manpower conditions. However, a crew of about seven men have been on the job whereas from 15 to 20 are needed, Crook said.

A total of 250,000 young trees are being planted, 230,000 red pine and 20,000 black spruce. The red pine are being planted in an area about eight miles north and east of the Cooks school, in a section logged in 1947. The black spruce will be planted near Jack Pine Lodge, on M-94. Planting operations here are expected to start next Monday, Crook reported.

Schoolcraft Gets Tenth Place In Cancer Campaign

Schoolcraft county achieved tenth place in Michigan in the 1950 cancer fund campaign, it is revealed in the September-October bulletin of the Michigan Cancer Society. The final report for all counties in the state is published in the current bulletin issue.

In taking tenth position in the state, the Schoolcraft county division raised $1,395.07, which places the county 69.7 per cent over its quota.

First place in the state went to Leelanau county which exceeded its quota by 214.2 per cent.

Schoolcraft was the only county in the upper peninsula in the first 13 positions on the state list. Fourteenth place was taken by Iron county, 37.8 per cent over its quota, and fifteenth place went to Mackinac county which exceeded its quota by 33.3 per cent.

Home Economics Groups To Make Holiday Candies

The Schoolcraft County Home Economics clubs will have their annual Christmas workshop lesson next week, it was announced yesterday by Fred C. Bernhardt, district 4-H club agent.

A training meeting for leaders from each club will be held at Grand Marais Thursday, October 26, and at the Manistique township hall Friday, October 27. The meetings will start at 1:30 p. m. and continue all afternoon.

Miss Irma Saven, district home demonstration agent, from Marquette, will be in Schoolcraft county to give the homemakers ideas on making Christmas toys and decorations. The feature of this year's lesson will be the making of large Christmas candles using paraffin.

The Christmas workshop lesson has been given in the county for the past five years and has always been very popular with the homemakers, Bernhardt said.

Bowl Mixed Doubles Starting On Saturday

Mixed doubles bowling will start at the Midway Alleys Saturday night at 9 o'clock and is open to all interested bowlers.

St. Paul Reneges; Barks To Play Rock

BARK RIVER—Cancellation of a game by St. Paul of Negaunee has caused a shift in the Bark River-Harris high school football schedule this week.

Coach George LeBrasseur announced that Rock Little Giants had agreed to fill in for St. Paul and the game will be played here Friday afternoon at 1 o'clock.

The game has more than usual interest in Bark River. In recent years, the two teams have been meeting twice a year and have been on even terms.

In the first meeting earlier at Rock, the locals were behind, 7-6, with less than a minute to go when they scored on a pass from Dale Erickson to Francis Bartozek to win the game, 12-7.

Rock is determined to win that one back but the locals have shown much improvement since the first game, beating St. Paul easily and losing tough battles to Florence, St. Joe of Escanaba and Stephenson.

The Little Giants have defeated Powers-Spalding, St. Paul and Gladstone Reserves while losing to Florence since the opening game against Bark River.

Officials will be Gunderman, Baldwin and Williams of Escanaba.

Yanks Favored Over Packer Team Tonight

NEW YORK—(AP)—The New York Yanks ruled 13-point favorites to whip the Green Bay Packers in their National football league clash at Yankee stadium tonight.

Red Strader's hard-hitting squad sought to break their tie with the Chicago Bears for the lead in the National conference. The two teams have identical 4-1 records.

A triumph for the Packers would move them up to a .500 percentage. They have lost three of their five starts.

Final Golf Club Events Are Planned

Activities at the Escanaba golf club are in the windup stage. The final fish fry of the year will be held Friday night.

The men's twilight league will wind up play next Wednesday night, Pro Dick Knop said today. The windup of the season will be officially Saturday, Oct. 28 with the annual club Halloween and Harvest party.

Knop expects to leave about Nov. 1 for the winter months. He expects to spend part of his time in Chicago and part in his home state of South Carolina.

Joe Louis Signs To Fight Brion

CHICAGO — (AP) — Argentine Cesar Brion is the first road block sprawled before former heavyweight champion Joe Louis in his projected shuffle up the long trail back to the top of fistiana.

Ironically, the foe Joe will oppose at the Chicago Stadium Nov. 29 has the one asset, youth, which apparently weighed so heavily against Louis when he was pummeled by champion Ezzard Charles at New York Sept. 27.

Louis, however, is confident he can brush by the 26-year-old Brion, winner of 31 bouts against three defeats. Then he hopes to whip probably Lee Oma and Rocky Marciano and then square things with Charles next June.

The 36-year-old, aged Brown Bomber will go into preliminary training at West Baden, Ind., next week and return here for his final sharpening over three weeks before his scheduled 10-rounder with Brion.

This comeback will be for blood, not for money, Joe said. "I need money, sure, but the real reason I'm comin' back is that I know I can beat Charles and I want to work my way back to another fight with him," drawled Louis.

"I don't want to alibi, but I couldn't shake off a cold I got five days before the fight and I was taking penicillin two days before the fight.

"I just fought Charles differently than I trained for him.

Vet Turk Broda Still Snags 'em

(By The Associated Press)

Pudge Turk Broda, at 36, is the oldest netminder in the National hockey league. But the master craftsman of the Toronto Maple Leafs has lost little if any of his sparkling touch.

Playing his 16th consecutive season with the Leafs, Broda blanked the Boston Bruins, 2 to 0. The veteran goalkeeper turned aside 24 Boston shots.

A skippy Boston crowd of 9,039 saw the teams battle on even terms for two periods.

Two games are on tap for tonight. The league-leading Montreal Canadiens entertain the New York Rangers, while the revitalized Chicago Black Hawks visit Detroit's Olympia stadium for a tiff with the Red Wings.

MANY MANAGERS
CO-UMBUS, O.—(AP)—The 1950 Little World Series triumph of the Columbus Red Birds of the American Association over Baltimore was the fourth for the Red Birds in the last ten years. It also was the fourth for President Al Bannister of the Red Birds, and all four were won under different managers.

Burt Shotton led the Birds in 1941, Eddie Dyer was at the helm of the 1942 winners, and Nick Cullop led the team to its 1943 victory. Montreal was the 1941 loser, while Syracuse absorbed both the 1942 and 1943 defeats.

Gordon To Manage Sacramento Team

SACRAMENTO—(AP)—Joe Gordon, spectacular major league second baseman, has been signed as player-manager of the Sacramento Solons, who finished the 1950 season in the Pacific coast league cellar.

Joe Gordon, 34, general manager, said the salary was not announced but was reported "in excess" of $20,000.

Unless it is considerably in excess the 34-year-old star of the Cleveland Indians will be taking a cut in pay to assume the managerial toga. He received $35,000 with the Cleveland Indians this year and could have taken not more than a 25 per cent cut under baseball law had he returned to that club.

Joe has ambitions to be a manager as well as a player in the big time, and he figures the way to get there is from the Pacific coast.

Gordon succeeds Joe Marly, who resigned Tuesday.

Rugged St. Joe Tackle Out For Rest Of Season

Here Comes Winter And Arnold Johnson

Winter is nigh!

True enough, there have been no now flurries yet but, put in your book, winter must be marking time down at Sand Point—Arnold Johnson is calling his Shamrock basketball team together!

Arnold, of course, is Mr. Basketball himself in Escanaba. No one really knows how long Arnold has been playing and managing basketball teams but it is generally recognized that Dr. Naismith got many of his ideas for the game from Arnold before he invented it before the turn of the century.

Well, anyway, Arnold has called a meeting of his Shamrocks for Friday night at 9 o'clock at the St. Clair hotel. Among the players he's expecting will be Ed Gauthier, Tom and Bob Dufour, Warren Fisher, George Shomin, Tom St. Germain, Frank Miketina, Roy Johnson and Yutch and Bob Anderson.

Others expected at the meeting, Johnson said, are Bill Morrow, Cliff Beaudin, Sr., and Paul Vardigan.

Practice probably will begin next week, he said.

When St. Joseph gridders play at Munising Saturday, they will be without the services of one of the bulwark of their defensive line.

Dick Casey, rugged defensive lineman, suffered a chipped bone in a finger and is through for the season, Coach Tom St. Germain said today.

Casey, a husky chap with plenty of speed, has been a tower of strength on the Trojan line this year and his absence will be felt in the Munising game.

As a result of Casey's loss, St.

PEP RALLY SLATED FOR FRIDAY NIGHT

A big pep rally will be held Friday night by St. Joe fans on the eve of the St. Joe-Munising game for the Little Brown Jug. It will start at 7 o'clock with free movies at William Bonifas auditorium, followed by a parade and winding up with a bonfire in the school yard.

Germain is planning several shifts in his line.

John Jungles, who played well against Crystal Falls, will be at right tackle and Harlon Pepin will be shifted to left tackle. Jim Cashin will be shifted to right guard and Tom Brien will be used on defense.

Saturday's game Saturday will be a renewal of the battle between St. Joe and Munising for the "Little Brown Jug." The jug now is in the possession of Munising as a result of last year's Mather 14-0 victory.

Grid Fatalities Below '49 Mark

LOS ANGELES—(AP)—Football fatalities in the nation are down almost 50 per cent at this stage of the grid season as compared to the same period in 1949.

There have been six deaths attributed directly to football, one is listed as indirect and still another is registered as uncertain.

Added to these is one death in rugby football in Canada, said to be only the second in Canadian senior rugby history.

The statistics were obtained today from the committee on injuries and fatalities of the American Football Coaches association, headed by Dr. Floyd R. Eastwood of Los Angeles State college.

At this same period last year, including the second week of the season in October, 11 football fatalities numbered 11.

Dr. Eastwood said he hopes the current figures indicate that coaches and trainers are continuing to make diligent, pregame checks of equipment and players' physical conditions.

Eskymo Backs Injured For Marinette Game

When the Eskymos take the field here Saturday afternoon at 2:45 against the Marinette power-house they will have several crimples on their list although most of the regulars will be ready for action.

It appeared today that Bob Paterick, speedy little wingback, will be out of the game entirely. A pulled tendon is still bothering him.

Another back, Tom Smith, victim of a freak accident, probably will play. Smith suffered face wounds last week when he was playing with his dog and it bit him.

Jim Valentine, another fast back, also probably will play although he has been hobbled by a knee injury.

Mert McRae's ankle seems to be improving but he still can't put too much strain on it.

So it appears Coach Jim Rouman will have to rely on the backfield that performed so well against Iron Mountain last week. That would find JoJo Johnston and Casper Bartley at their accustomed quarterback and full-back spots and Tom Schwalbach and Paul Gunderman, two newcomers, at wingback and tailback, respectively.

Whether this combination is enough to offset the dynamic ball carrying and passing ability of Marinette's Allan Felch, a 200-pound speedster, remains to be seen.

TV Knocks Out Top Fight Card

CHICAGO — (AP)—The International Boxing Club has had some dandy Chicago stadium scraps, like last night's Charlie Fusari-Tony Pellone slug-fest. But finding a way to make the public pay to see them is another story.

Fusari scored a 10th round technical knockout of the game Pellone and television scored some sort of a knockout over the I. B. C. Only 3,924 fans preferred watching the gladiators in the flesh to seeing them on the video screen. The I. B. C. had expected at least 10,000.

Fusari and Pellone put on a savage scrap before Tony crumbled under Fusari's whistling lefts and rights. Referee Johnny Behr stopped the fight in 1:44 of the 10th and last round.

Chuck Davey, Michigan State college's former national collegiate champion, won his sixth straight professional start with an easy 4-round decision over Vern Roberts, 147, Gary, Ind., southpaw. Davey's ripping punches to the stomach had Roberts in trouble most of the way. Davey weighed 145.

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT

Chicago—Charlie Fusari, 148, Irvington, N. J., stopped Tony Pellone, 146½, New York, 10.

Robert R. Neyland, in 18 years as a football coach, has seen his teams win 143 games, lose only 23 and tie 11.

Spilling The Dope

By Charlie Larson

Colgate W. Darden is a man we can admire. Who is he? He's president of the University of Virginia.

Why do we admire him? Because he apparently doesn't believe in a lot of hokum.

In case you missed the story yesterday, Darden said: "Sure, we are breaking the National Collegiate Athletic association 'Sanity' code."

He pointed out that Virginia makes no bones about helping its athletes.

In effect, he said anyone who pretends that his football players are practicing the game diligently, keeping up their studies and earning their way at standard student rates of pay either doesn't know what he is talking about or does—and is lying.

And he can't understand, he says, why $1,040 in "aid" is too much for a studious football player while a non-athletic young chemist can collect $2,500.

If anyone tells you the Big Ten has clean hands in football, you're fully justified in giving with a Bronx cheer.

With few exceptions, top-notch football players don't go to certain big universities without a few extra dollars (in some cases plenty) dangling on the side.

Sure, perhaps the schools don't do it directly. But you've heard of alumni, haven't you? The bidding gets plenty high in many cases and, in some instances, it ruins boys for life.

While we're on the subject of college football, we'd like to predict that before too many years, you're going to see a clamor for some sort of restriction on indiscriminate passing.

Football isn't football any more—it's roughhouse basketball.

When 80 passes are thrown in a game, there isn't much time left for anything else.

We'd like to see some real, honest-to-goodness old tackle smashes and end runs with rock 'em, sock 'em blocking once again. This "T" brush block stuff isn't football. It's the lazy way to play football.

And, speaking of the "T", we'd be willing to bet that system will be on its way out in the next five years. Say what you want, but the "T" isn't football at its best.

A's Will Hustle, Says Dykes, Successor to Mack

PHILADELPHIA—(AP)—Jimmy Dykes is proud of being selected to succeed Connie Mack as manager of the Philadelphia Athletics but he's realistic enough to know that a tremendous rebuilding job has been tossed into his lap.

To say Dykes was starting from scratch would be an understatement. The rotund smoker of big black cigars inherits a ball club that finished last in the American league this year, 47 games behind the first place New York Yankees.

But Jimmy isn't wearing a harlequin look yet. After the excitement of his being selected to fill the famous shoes of the retired 87-year-old Mack had died down today, Dykes took this stock of his ball club:

"A's Will Hustle"

"This team isn't as bad as its record. They finished so far behind because they loafed. And believe me, there won't be any loafing in 1951. The A's will hustle from spring training to the end of the season. That, I promise you."

Dykes said he and the new general manager, Arthur Ehlert, would decide next week what players they want to keep and whom they would like to get rid of.

"The only help we can expect from the farm teams next year consists of Lou Limmer, first baseman from St. Paul who was voted the outstanding rookie in the American association; Frank Robinson, a pitcher from Savannah and George Moskvich, Buffalo second baseman," Dykes said.

Asked if bringing up Limmer would make first sacker Ferris Fain available as trading material, Dykes said it is an angle to consider.

"Fain is a good first baseman and we would have to get darn good players in any deal involving him. We don't want cash, we want players," he said.

Dykes is Pleased

The 54-year-old Dykes, who was only four years old when the man he has succeeded helped found and then became the first and only manager of the Athletics ever knew, expressed himself as overwhelmed at being named to take over Connie Mack's job.

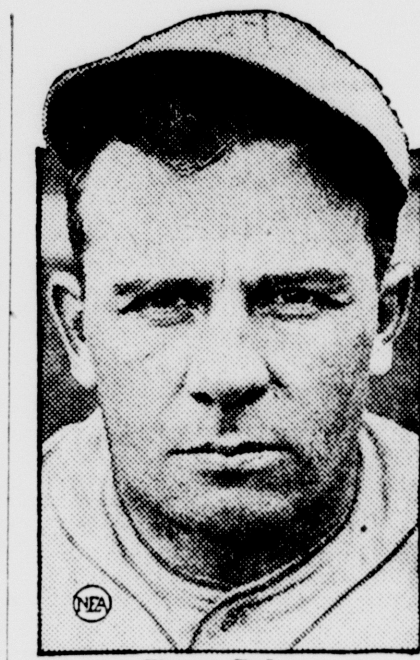

"I never was so pleased in all my life," he asserted. "I've always admired Mr. Mack and I'll try to be as much a credit to the game as he was although I know I can never even approach such a standing."

Mack, long known as the grand old man of baseball, announced his retirement at a luncheon for sportswriters yesterday.

Speaking with hardly a trace of emotion, Mack said "I am sorry I could not give Philadelphia all it expected. Thanks for keeping me 50 years as manager of the Athletics and thanks, too, to the Philadelphia public for their fine support."

He added that he plans to make some trips with the team next season but added "I'll watch the games from the stands."

Maryland is the only newcomer on the 1950 North Carolina football schedule.

Hockey Group Calls Meeting For Nov. 12

The Upper Peninsula Amateur Hockey league will hold its annual meeting Sunday, Nov. 12, at 2 o'clock at the Escanaba city hall.

Announcement was made today by Larry Pratt, association president.

Plans will be made for the coming hockey season.

Communities wishing to enter a team in the amateur league are invited to attend the meeting, Pratt said.

Manistique B's Go To Marquette

MANISTIQUE — The Manistique reserves, undisputed B champions of the Great Lakes Conference as a result of their victory last Saturday over the Soo reserves, will meet the Marquette reserves in Marquette Saturday afternoon.

Coach Donald Dissinger said today he plans to take 26 men with him on the trip, including the team's student manager, Don Knoph.

The local reserves have won all of their games so far, defeating Negaunee, Gladstone, Newberry, Munising and the Soo. The Soo reserves, only other contender for the B title, were put out of the running by their defeat last Saturday.

HALFTIME SHOW

EAST LANSING—(AP)—Fars attending the Michigan State Marquette football game Saturday are assured of a big halftime band show. The Marquette marching band of 85 pieces will arrive by train Saturday morning and will present a show of its own during the pregame and intermission ceremonies. Michigan State's military band of 108 pieces also will see action.

Injuries Still Plague Emeralds

Three May Be Out For Marquette Game

MANISTIQUE — Despite an earlier prediction of a physically fit team to meet Marquette here Friday night, Coach John Viergever said today that at least one man, and possibly three, would be unable to play.

Out of the lineup for Friday is Jack Reque who injured his back Tuesday in practice. Both Bob Clement and Howard Strasser also may be unable to play because of injuries received in the Soo game last Friday night unless their doctors clear them, Viergever said.

Manistique's probable starting lineup for Marquette will be: Don Quick and Cletus Chartier at end; Bob Weber and Nick Babiladis at tackle; Mike Schultz and either Bob Nelson or Duane DeSautel at guard; Bob Clement or Bill Corson at center; Francis Ekdahl at quarter; Dick Burns and Bob Minor at half; and George Hough at full.

Under the stimulation of a large crowd expected at the booster game, Coach Viergever is optimistic over his team's chances against the strong Marquette eleven. Marquette has lost only one game this season, that to Newberry, 20 to 0.

The game is called for 8:30 p. m. is the Hall Stadium. Manistique stores will close in time to permit employees to attend.

The world championship rodeo will run for 26 days or until Oct. 22 in Madison Square Garden. There will be 39 performances, including 13 matinees.

Asiatics Fear Economic Imperialism, Says Nehru

By MARQUIS CHILDS
(This is the first of two exclusive dispatches by Marquis Childs filed from New Delhi, India. Their content was obtained after a long private audience with Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru of India.)

NEW DELHI, India.—Wearing homespun garments and leading a life of almost Spartan austerity in his vast official residence, one of the leading figures on the world stage talks eloquently and movingly of the world's despairing need for peace.

CHILDS

Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru, in a four-hour talk with me, expounded the philosophy behind India's foreign policy.

If that policy has confused some and seemed to resemble appeasement, it is not due to any wavering of Nehru's mind. He sees the supreme tragedy of a third world conflict overshadowing humanity and his deepest convictions are that everything must be done to avert it.

For the moment, at least, Nehru believes the danger of China's intervention in the Korean war has subsided. He says India's role was solely to pass on to Great Britain and the United States the statements made by Chou En-Lai to India's ambassador Pannikar in Peking. But how, Nehru asks, could anyone assume that those statements were a bluff? They had to be taken at face value unless one presumed to know the inner workings of the minds of the men now governing China.

Nehru's Reasons
The reasons why the Nehru government is working incessantly for peace and to avoid seeming to align itself against Peking emerge from Nehru's conversation as he ranges back to the origins of India. In the earliest Indus civilization, rediscovered some years ago, they can be summarized as follows:

First is its belief that World War III would mean a reversion to barbarism over large areas of the earth. Destruction would be so great and interruption of all forms of transportation and communication so far-reaching that this is inevitable. As Nehru sees it, "military, almost tribal dictatorships" would take the place of organized government in many regions.

In this connection the Nehru government is firmly determined to try to maintain neutrality if such a war occurs. But Nehru, with a rare smile illuminating his grave face, admits to great difficulties in the way of holding to such a course. He also fully understands the indirect consequences of a new war on a "neutral" and particularly on India where the struggle to curb inflation and to reconstruct is so critical.

The second reason for the policy of the Nehru government is the belief that in the "long run China can never become a satellite of Russia or a Communist state in the Russian pattern."

Nehru points to shifts in Chinese policy during the past year granting rights even to large land-holding peasants to retain their lands and farm them for their own profit. To Nehru this means the likelihood of the continuing domination of the peasant economy with a restraining influence on the theoretical Communists in the cities. Sensitivities and pride in new nationalisms in both India and China enter in here, too. There are repeated reports printed in Delhi of Chinese invasions of Tibet. The fate of this remote mountain fastness is linked to India's prestige. Likewise, the integrity and independence of Burma, which once had major ties to China, are important to India not alone for pride prestige but for the military security of the nation. China's military strength is at least 10 times that of India.

The third reason for the Indian policy is the profound influence of the Gandhi philosophy on Nehru and most members of the government. Though he has been dead for more than two years, Gandhi is still a living spirit in this British-built capital of imperial splendor which has been taken over by Indian leaders who led the revolution against the British Raj.

Gandhi's Non-Violence
Nehru makes plain in almost everything he says the influence on him of Gandhi who was like a father and brother to him. Gandhi's non-violence, which deeply swayed the Indian masses, lives on in the hearts and minds of those who are trying to establish a Democratic self-government in this land torn by religious strife and burdened by ancient traditions.

This Gandhi-ism partly explains the revulsion here for the mass killing and destruction in Korea even though India joined the U. S. in its United Nations stand against the aggressor. The remark General MacArthur made, and widely printed here, saying the sight of dead North Koreans was good for his old eyes caused a highly unfavorable reaction.

This also is related to the suspicion that the west considers Asiatics expendable and that the desire of Europe and perhaps America is to fight the war against Communism in Asia where weapons of mass destruction, such as the atomic bomb, can be used.

That brings up the fourth reason for the Indian policy, which is the fear of American imperialism. Nehru, of course, is far too understanding to hold such a fear. He says what Asians fear is not the old-fashioned imperialism, but "economic imperialism."

The man in the long homespun coat, called an Achkan, talks on in the deep silence of the Indian night. Ever soft and muted in its conversational flow, his voice implies brilliance and power as the speaker to vast Indian throngs. Only the occasional howling of Delhi jackals in the remote darkness beyond the open windows breaks the stillness, reminding us of the forces of nature still to be conquered in this ancient land. Whether anyone in the west likes it or not, this man is India today—the inheritor of Gandhi's and, as he has just shown, a new master political party that dominates the country.
